FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Tendered by Congregation of Scranton Street Baptist Church to Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Morris.

The congregation of the Scranton Street Baptist church tendered a departing member and his family a farewell reception at the church last evening. Rev. S. P. Mathews, pastor of the church, presided over the meeting and though tinged with regret at their departure, the fellowship and regard exhibited will no doubt always exist as a pleasant memory with Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Morris. Rev. Owen James, a former pastor of the church, and at present visiting here, spoke of his deep feeling of friendship for the departing. A friendship which lasted since its beginning over fourteen years ago. John Owens and Randolph Jones spoke briefly of their association for so many years with Mr. Morris as a deacon and his kindly assistance and valued advice. A quartette comprising E. E. Lord, David Evans, Thomas G. Evans and John H. Phillips, sang and a well filled purse was presented Mr. Morris by the pastor, Rev. S. P. Mathews, on behalf of the congregation. The surprised recipient responded in a feeling manner.

Dr. Redde, superintendent of the Sabbath school, made some interesting remarks. The church choir rendered a selection. Miss Rose Phillips tendered Mr. and Mrs. Morris "bon voyage" on behalf of the Baptist Young People's society. The rest of the evening was spent in a general handshaking. Mr. and Mrs. Morris and family leave from their present residence on North Girard avenue this morning and sail on Wednesday for Birmingham, England, to reside permanently.

TRUE IVORITES ORATE.

Once each month the members of Dewey Baptist church of True Ivorites, meeting at Co-operative hall, have a literary adjunct to the routine business of the lodge. Last evening it was intended to have a vocal contest. The contest was open only to the members who had passed two scores and five. A debate was to be heard upon the topic "What is the best way by which the leisure hours of the working class can be improved." The schedule was not however carried out and instead an impromptu contest was gotten up. The man who knew about the "Klondike" in five minutes was given a small prize. Several entered but David Lewis was the lucky individual.

THEY SETTLED IT.

Charles Clark and Charles Brown, both of North Scranton, suffered an estrangement last Saturday, though Mr. Clark is employer and Mr. Brown is employed. The differences between the two grew and words were uttered by Mr. Brown to the effect that he would "fill Mr. Clark so full of bullets that he (Clark) would not know what had struck him." A warrant was issued from Alderman Moses' office and last evening the hearing took place. After considerable oratory had been heard, the principals decided to re-agree and Mr. Brown paid the costs.

After he had departed Patrolman May decided to find out the contents of the bag and found it filled with corn and tomatoes. ## EXCITING RUNAWAY TRIP.

Trolley Car Runs from Main Avenue to Lackawanna Avenue Crossing. Early yesterday morning open car No. 24 of the Traction Company was coming cityward from North Main avenue. Just as the switch at Jackson street was reached a derangement of the motor occurred and the car ran through the switch down Jackson, then Robinson, out with West Lackawanna gaining momentum rapidly. What was the horror of the passengers, of whom there were several, to see coming toward them, a Lackawanna and Western crossing, a Swetland street car and a collision seemed inevitable. Some remained seated while others considered "treat the better part of valor" and jumped or fell out. The car sped on with the motorman vainly struggling for control. The motorman on the other car grasped the situation and backed his car out of harm's way, and the runaway stopped just beyond the crossing.

None of the passengers who got off so precipitately were seriously injured. Attorney C. E. Olver was bruised and jarred. James Aitley, Jr., was more or less shaken. Attorney Lewis kept his balance and came out safely. Mr. Richards, of North Main avenue, probably sustained the severest jolting as he was thrown.

MEETS WIFE BY APPOINTMENT.

Robert Scott Not Allowed to Visit Her at Her Home. Robert Scott and wife were among the prisoners who faced Mayor Bailey in police court yesterday. Several years ago Scott married the present Mrs. Scott, who was then a widow with children almost full grown. Scott is a bibulous individual and his habits caused his step-children to banish him from the house and his wife. Thereafter Mr. and Mrs. Scott met by appointment occasionally, for Scott was not allowed to enter the house.

Sunday night he met his wife in the central city and they proceeded to the South Side, where they had several social glasses. Late in the evening they returned to the central city and hid themselves to that retreat of lovers, Millin avenue. Somewhat under the influence of liquor they forgot their surroundings and imagining themselves at home, partially disrobed and laid down on the grass and to sleep.

Police officers saw them and bundled them off to the station house, where charges of drunkenness and indecent exposure were placed opposite their names. In police court yesterday morning Mrs. Scott was discharged, but her husband was fined $10.

Willey, of New York, who has consented to deliver an address to the members of the board and their friends at their next regular meeting, Monday, Sept. 20.

Judge Willey will speak on the tariff, from a non-partisan standpoint, and those who will be present will hear a great subject treated from a master mind. Judge Willey has a reputation as an orator second to none. He is a speaker of rare power. His recent work, "The Laborer and the Capitalist," has placed him at almost a single bound in the foremost rank of thinkers and economists. The influence of his work on the side of humanity and civilization can hardly be estimated.

Each member of the board will have the privilege of inviting a friend to the meeting, and from present indications it would appear that the audience will do credit to the occasion.
